For some time past, a young man giving the name of Everett James and chaining to hall from Ohio, has been hoarding with Mrs.
Steger, near the Second Ward Market House. Everett did not pay his board bill promptly, and yesterday morning Mrs. Steger seized on some of his clothes, after vainly endeavoring to obtain the filthy here. James did not like this and said that he was tired of the place and was going back to Ohio. If Mrs. Steger would accompany him to the Island he would get some money that was owing him and settle with her. To this she agreed, and his landlady proceeded to the Garden Spoil. He led her to the Western side, near the back water dam, and stopping in front of a house, opened the gate and invited Mrs. S. to enter. She didso, when he shut the gate and tarted for the river saying "goodhye." She followed but the escaped across the dam, getting soaking wet in so doing.

For several days lovers of the National tween the Crockery City club, of East Liver pool, and the Standard, of this city, antici-pating a closely-contested and interesting game, and by three o'clock yesterday aftergame, and by three o'clock yesterday aftermoon quite a respectable crowd of people had

The start of the second inning was very much like the first, Darrah being caught out on a foul fly by Barkley. Rowe, the next batter, was struck by the ball as he started for first. The umpire did not want to allow the Standards claim of out, but after a good deal of kickingsuccumbed.

In the Standards' hall of the same inning Miller was put out on first; Heinlein make a base hit, and took second on a wild pitch. A. Heinlein struck short, and Rees carried his base. Barkley made a two-baser, bringing in Heinlein and Rees. Laird went out on a fly to center.

In the last half of the third inning Dunn was on third, when the pitcher of the Crock-

In the list half of the third inning Dunn was on third, when the pitcher of the Crockeries threw the ball, and the baseman touched Dunn and he was ruled out. This caused another kick, and certainly a justifiable one. The pitcher has a habit of making a motion as if to pitch and then throwing to a base. This is of course clearly against the rules, but he defends himselt by saying that he changes his position before pitching. The fact is that he is in the same position when he commences to deliver the ball to the bat as when he makes this feint. It is an undoubted balk. Nevertheless the umpire ruled Dunn out, spite of the Standard boys' earnest protest, and cries of "Change umpires" from the stand.

The same thing occurred in the last half of the fourth inning, Barkley being ruled out.

The endowment of the Bassler professorship showed $6,500 in scholarships, which, as elsewhere stated, was completed yesterday and the $20,000 anised. The receipts were $1,003.32 the past year, and the expenditures were $4,008.00. In addition to the above there was received as the proceeds of tuition, etc., $2,301.25, and the expenditures attendant on the same were $3,167.18. The total improvided debt, which has been accumulating for for several years, amounts to $6,153.42. This codlyge, it will be understood, is in charge of this Synod, and of it we shall have something further to say.

The nomination of J. Hanson Good falls like a wet blanket on some of the unterrified here in Hancock county. Several of them, whom your correspondent has talked with, say openly and above board that they will not support him under any consideration whatever, that no pressure that can be brought to bear upon them will whip them into line. It was Wilson, Johnson or any person except the man who belped to make a free trade platform for them in 1880. Their choice was Johnson, but when he is thrown over they have only one choice left, viz., say at home and take their key note from the artful dedger, Col. Ben, and not vote at all. So it seemeth that J. Hanson's candidacy don't carry with it the ring of a solid front. Good work here will give us an old time majority for the Republican nominee, whoever he may be.

Excursion Tickets to the Great Exposition.

The Ohio State Fair for 1882 will be held at the city of Columbus on Monday, Tuesday, Wedinesslay, Thursday and Friday, August 28th, 29th, 30th, 31st and September 1st, and the Ohio State Board of Agriculture, under whose auspices the fair is held, will leave nothing undone to make it a grand and instructive exhibition.

Let the people remember there is but one State Fair, and for the present year it will be held in the city of Columbus, on the days and dates above mentloned. It is a State institution, conducted in the interests of the people, for the promotion of the legitimate productive industries of the State, and it is therefore to the interests of the industrial classes to patronize the State Fair.

The Columbus Hospital for Insane (the largest hospital in the world), the Ohio Penitentiary, Asylum for Imbecine Youth, Asylum for the Blind, Asylum for Deaf and Dumb; and the several other State Institutions located at Columbus, will be open to visitors during the week of the Ohio State Fair.

The Pittisburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis Dr. Geo. A. Close, a young and yery popular physician of this place, will move to Bellaire Tuesday. His office will be on Belmon street.

Quite a marked improvement to the quiet beauty of our cemetery, Greenwood, has just been made by the crection of a fine Monsoleum vanit by the large and prosperous firm of LA, Moore & Co., granite and marble lealers, of Zanesville, Ohio.

The Monsoleum being of the rustic class of orchitecture, with just enough curved and linished work to give it the appearance of the landsomest piece of work that our cemetery contains.

imissed work to give it the appearance of the handsomest piece of work that our cemetery contains.

The design was drawn by Mr. Moore in person from ideas furmshed by the purchaser, Mr. Hullihen Quarrier, and it seems to be the most complete work of this description that we ever witnessed, as it completely shutsout all possible chance of the disagreeable odor that prevails almost all works of this description, in fact, we must eap that it is the most becautiful and complete piece of work that the human mind could conceive, and we cannot help but add to the wide reputation this firm possesses for furnishing good and durable work.

This firm will soon erect in the same cemetry a large Quiney grante monument for our former townsman, Mr. John lishop and wife, decased. Traly, we would say, by their work shall you know them.

We would advise our readers who are In need of grantie or marble monuments, Monsoleum vault tombs, urns, tazzas, or Italian statury, to correspond with the firm, as they never fall to please, and profit all who favor then with their orders. ewith which adiptiona may be obtained iny of the colleges, and at what little e-nse.
